Discovery of Long Lost
Treasure Shaft.

LOCATION HAS BEEN AN INDIAN SECRET

Bisbee, Ariz., Oct. 7.—Mexican officials at Cananea yesterday announced the rediscovery of the old Santa Teresa gold mine, one of the few really "lost mines" of the southwest, which was worked by Spaniards more than a century ago.

Indians had kept possession of the mine so long that its location had become a mystery.

The Mexican government is now making arrangements to take charge of the mine.

MERCHANTS ABANDON FAIR EXCURSIONS

Fear Discrimination Might Be Shown so Postpone
Excursion Till the Holidays.

A square deal for all is what the Retail Merchants' league wishes. For this reason the original plan to have another trade excursion week during the El Paso fair has been changed in order to allow all of the merchants, whether or not they are members of the Merchants' league, to have an opportunity to sell their goods to the visitors from without the city. Should the Retail league give the rebates on fares paid to El Paso when purchases are made with its members, the greater part of the trade would be thrown to the stores which were represented.

As a large number of subscribers to the fair association fund are not members of the league, the organization decided at a meeting Thursday night, that the plan would not be put in operation during the fair, but would be postponed until the holidays.

The first six jurors already accepted for the trial are:

1. Robert L. Obeir, collector for Tuttle, John and Glass company.

With 98 men present of the 100 summoned on the second special venire to qualify as jurors for the trial of John Leech, the qualifying process was resumed Friday morning, following the recess granted Wednesday afternoon in the 34th district court in order to allow deputy sheriffs Bryant, Greet and Watson to summon the venire. The two men who failed to answer to their names, H. D. Camp and J. N. Sanburn, were each fined $5 by the court.

The third and fifth men on the second venire, were accepted as jurors for the trial, following the release of Ed A. Campbell, excused for cause, A. C. Stephens, excused by the court, and W. L. Foxworth, who was excused as a result of a challenge by the defense, sustained by the court.

Mr. Landos, during his examination, stated he owned property in Military Heights is a member of the Presbyterian church; single, and has resided in El Paso for 15 months, coming here from Louisiana. He also stated that he had never sat in a jury box before and did not know either Mr. Kohlberg or Mr. Leech. He had no opinion.

Leech Appears Careworn.

Leech, when he entered the courtroom Friday morning, accompanied by his wife and an officer, had a careworn expression on his face, which did not leave during the morning. Spokane Convention Names
Colorado Town for Next Meeting Place.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 7.—Colorado Springs, Colo., was named as the place for the next convention by the Dry Farming congress, which adjourned late yesterday afternoon. Last night the delegates were entertained at a banquet.

One of the closing features of the congress was the introduction of a resolution endorsing San Francisco's claim for the Panama canal exposition in 1915. 'Objection was immediately raised and a stormy discussion ensued, terminating in the refusal of the convention to entertain the resolution on the ground that the matter was outside the scope and jurisdiction of the Dry Farming congress. The vote was practically unanimous.

At the end there was little fight made on the place for the next congress.

Prof. W. L. Carlyle, dean of the Idaho Agricultural college, exalted the meek and lowly hog in his address on "Livestock Breeding and Feeding."

"The hog," he said, "lends itself better to dry farming than any other animal."
